Criminal Convictions Declaration Form Guidance

Please read the following notes carefully before completing the Declaration contained within the online application form

- The Rehabilitation of Offenders Act 1974 (Exclusions and Exceptions) (Scotland) Order 2013 as amended makes it unlawful for employers, or prospective employers, to take into account offences which are classified as "spent". An offence is "spent" when the person is deemed to be rehabilitated under the 1974 Act. There are different periods of rehabilitation for different offences and these are shown in the table below. Once the rehabilitation period has expired the offence is "spent".
- 2. Under the terms of the Rehabilitation of Offenders Act 1974 (Exclusions and Exceptions) (Scotland) Order 2013 as amended, candidates for certain posts are not entitled to withhold information on a criminal conviction on the grounds that it is "spent". You must provide information on all convictions, whether spent or otherwise, if you are applying for an exempt post. If the post is exempt, this will be stated in the advertisement.
- 3. Every candidate invited for interview must complete the attached Declaration Form, whether they have a previous conviction or not, and return it in the envelope provided to the Department of People and OD prior to interview. You need not disclose "spent" offences, unless you are applying for an exempt post (see above).
- 4. Any details you provide will be treated in strict confidence and will not automatically exclude you from being considered for appointment. The nature and relevance of the offence in relation to the duties of the post and its role within the University will be taken into consideration.
- 5. The University reserves the right to verify that the details you have provided on this Criminal Convictions Declaration Form are accurate and may make any job offer conditional upon this verification. The University would require your consent in order to verify these details.
- 6. The information provided by you will be processed in line with the University's obligations under the Data Protection Act.

What is a spent conviction (in Scotland)?

Sentences of more than 30 months can never become spent. Other sentences become spent after fixed periods from the date of conviction. For a custodial sentence, the length of time actually served is irrelevant. The rehabilitation period (i.e., the length of time it takes for the offence to become spent) is decided by the original sentence and begins on the date of conviction.

The length of a rehabilitation period depends on the sentence as outlined in the table below.

	REHABILITATION PERIOD
SENTENCE	People aged 18 or over when convicted	People under 18 when convicted
Prison, custody or detention for life or detention at Her Majesty's pleasure	Can never become spent	Can never become spent
Prison, youth custody, detention in a young offender institution for a term exceeding 30 months	Can never become spent	Can never become spent
Prison, youth custody, detention in a young offender institution for between 6 and 30 months	10 years	5 years
Prison, youth custody or detention in a young offender institution for 6 months or less	7 years	3 ½ years
Fine	5 years	2 ½ years
Probation (after 3 February 1995)	5 years	 2½ years from conviction, or (if later) when the probation order ceases to have effect 1 year
Probation (before 3 February 1995)	1 year
Sentences where the rehabilitation period is the same for	or over and under 18
Absolute discharge	6 months
Detention under the Children and Young Persons Act 1993, s53 for between 6 and 30 months	5 years
Detention under the above Act for 6 months or less	3 years
Conditional discharge, binding over, care or supervision Order	1 year or the duration of the Order, if longer
Disqualification from driving	Period of disqualification

If you have any queries concerning the completion of the Criminal Conviction Declaration page please do not hesitate to contact the Department of People and OD. Please email jobs@uws.ac.uk giving your contact details. Please do not include any conviction information within this email.

The 'Two Ticks' Scheme

1. What is the Two Ticks Scheme?

The Two Ticks Scheme is a Jobcentre Plus accreditation that is given to organisations that are committed to the employment of disabled people. The University (UWS) will:

- Interview all applicants with a disability who meet the essential criteria as detailed on the person specification.
- Ensure there is a mechanism in place to discuss, at any time, but at least once a year, with disabled employees what can be done to ensure that they develop and use their abilities.
- Make every effort when an employee becomes disabled to ensure that they stay in employment.
- Take action to ensure that all employees develop an appropriate level of disability awareness to make these commitments work.
- Review the commitments each year and plan ways to improve the experience for disabled people

Why does UWS use the Two Ticks Scheme?

The Two Ticks Scheme demonstrates to prospective applicants and existing employees that UWS is committed to the employment of disabled people whether this is at the start of employment or later on in their career.

What is the Guaranteed Interview Scheme?

All disabled applicants who meet the essential criteria for a job vacancy will be interviewed. To be considered under the Guaranteed Interview Scheme, applicants will need to declare that they have a disability.

Disabled applicants should indicate if they wish to apply for the Guaranteed Interview Scheme by ticking the box in the Guaranteed Interview section on the job application form.

What if adjustments need to be made for the interview?

If you are invited to interview, please email jobs@uws.ac.uk with details of the job you are applying for and what adjustment you would require at the interview.
